Steps Taken To Drive Reds From Atomic Program

Government Moves To Ban Communists From Participation In Program

U. E. W. IS GIVEN FINAL WARNING

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. E. W. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The government took further steps today in its drive to ban Communists or fellow travelers from any participation in the nation's atomic energy program.

The CIO United Electrical Workers Union was given a "final warning" by the Atomic Energy Commission to submit loyalty data on its officers "to safeguard the nation's atomic energy undertaking."

The commission bluntly pointed out that the UEW has ignored for over two weeks a request for this loyalty data and now the time has come for prompt "action."

Refuse To Sign
UEW officers stubbornly have refused to sign anti-Communist affidavits as called for by the Taft-Hartley Act. Thousands of the union's members now are working in atomic installations.

Congress has evidence that the electrical workers union is "dominated" by Communists and has testimony that 400 of its officers are Communists or affiliates.

Unless the union submits a personal record of all its officers to the commission for immediate security investigation, the union will be banned from all atomic plants operated by the General Electric company.

Serious Question
The commission charged that "a serious question was found to exist in respect to alleged Communist (Continued on Page Two)"

Rebels Hold Two Towns In South Korea

SEOUL, Oct. 23.—(INS)—Two South Korean towns were still reported in the hands of Rebels today in the fourth day of an armed conflict against the Korean Republic.

Rebels were said to be in control of both Posing, an important railway center, and the seaport of Yosu. Loss of Posing had not been previously revealed.

A high Korean government official disclosed that the Rebels had captured Posing which lies 26 air-line miles from Suncheon, another revolt center.

United States occupation headquarters in Seoul announced that all Americans in the rebellion area to the south were "safe and accounted for."

This was announced officially after unfounded rumors of American casualties reached Seoul. An American official pointed out that the few U. S. Nationals in the battle area consist of a mere handful of advisers to the Korean constabulary.

Believe Moscow Behind Uprising In South Korea

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(INS)—Evidence accumulating at the state department today indicated that Moscow inspired Communist activity in directing the uprising in South Korea.

Officials actually were without any complete report from United States representatives in Seoul. As far as their reports are concerned, there has been only a minor uprising in Yosu by elements of a battalion destined for removal to an offshore island.

Other indications, however, establish that Moscow has taken the lead in promoting the uprising, possibly to strengthen its case in Paris where the general assembly is due to receive a report on the situation.

D. E. Sullivan Dies In Crash

Auto Accident On East Street This Morning Results In Fatality

Daniel E. Sullivan, aged 75 years, of 327 Crescent avenue, was killed at 6:30 o'clock this morning, when the brakes are believed to have let go on his auto, as he was descending the Shaw street hill. The car sped down Shaw street, hurtled across East street, and dropped over a steep embankment plunging into a truck owned by A. W. Parshall, 223 E. Falls street, which was parked in the yard alongside Mr. Parshall's home. There is a drop of around 15 feet off East street into the Parshall yard.

Governor Dewey Is Working Hard On Final Speeches

ALBANY, Oct. 23.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, gearing the climactic phase of his campaign to the theme of "victory without hatred," worked today on the four final major speeches of his White House drive. They will be delivered next week in Chicago, Cleveland, Boston and New York City. Dewey also will make a number of rear platform talks in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

The Republican presidential candidate, who returned to Albany last night after a week without a major political speech, made clear to party workers that he hopes for a GOP victory November 2 followed by a non-partisan solidification of American ranks against foreign aggression.

With that end in view, he asked (Continued on Page Two)

ROME, Oct. 23.—(INS)—Pope Pius XII issued an important encyclical letter today, deploring the Palestine hostilities and appealing for international supervision of Jerusalem and the shrines of the Holy Land.

Operating Room Explosion Kills Woman Patient

HARRISBURG, Oct. 23.—(INS)—Officials of the Harrisburg hospital disclosed today that an explosion in anesthesia apparatus yesterday killed a woman patient undergoing an operation.

Superintendent Webster Kolhaus identified the victim as Mrs. Steve Vugrinec, 58. Death apparently was instantaneous, Kolhaus said.

He said the blast also injured two nurse anesthetists. They are Dolores Cartier and Frances Metz. Both suffered slight burns but were able to continue working, according to Kolhaus.

Believed Cause
He said the explosion was believed to have been caused by static electricity. The blast occurred at 12:30 p. m., but reports were withheld because "we were trying to get all the facts," Kolhaus explained.

A investigation was launched immediately to determine the exact cause.

He said Mrs. Vugrinec was undergoing an abdominal operation at the time of the blast.

Mrs. Vugrinec, mother of five children, entered the hospital Tuesday.

Dr. Norman B. Shepler, Harrisburg surgeon; his assistant Dr. Thomas E. Davies, and another nurse escaped injury.

Kolhaus said the accident was the first of its kind in his 35 years association with the hospital.

Opera Company Thrown Into Dither

The new "duck-tail" hair-do is out for opera stars, especially for Violetta in Verdi's "La Traviata". When soprano Dorothy Kirschen arrived at the theater last night to play that role in Los Angeles, the members of the San Francisco Opera Co. were in a dither. Fortunately, the make-up man, shown placing the appropriate locks over Kirschen's "duck" haircut, saved the day and the customer's didn't know the difference.

Egypt And Israel Charge Violations Of Latest Truce

CAIRO, Oct. 23.—(INS)—Egypt charged that Israel violated the newly-proclaimed Negov truce today with new attacks on Egyptian position.

A government spokesman said that Egyptian troops "retaliated strongly" in the face of new Israeli assaults.

(A Damascus communique issued late last night said that more than 200 Jews were killed when Arabs on the northern front beat back an attack on Nabi Jusha, near the Lebanese frontier. But the communique did not indicate when the battle occurred.)

The truce went into effect officially at 3 p. m. Palestine time yesterday (7 a. m. EST). But the Egyptians charged that Israeli attacks continued after the deadline had passed yesterday, and that new attacks were made today.

The scenes of today's alleged attacks were not specified by the Egyptian statement. But yesterday Egypt said that air, ground and sea attacks took place in a number of widely-separated areas.

Israel Charges
TEL AVIV, Oct. 23.—Israel charged today that Syria has launched a new attack on the northern Palestine front following the Israeli-Egyptian truce agreement.

One Man Killed, Two Wounded, During Holdup

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 23.—(INS)—One man was dead and two others were in "fair" condition today after they attempted to forestall a holdup Friday night in nearby Plum township.

The dead man was Donald Schreckengost, 32, of the Center community. The wounded, both of whom suffered considerable loss of blood, are John Shanter, 30 and Louis Arno, 35, both of Center. Schreckengost leaves a wife and five children.

The three were shot with a semi-automatic rifle as a four-man gang robbed Matt's Cafe in Center. They attacked one of the robbers as the gang was leaving, and the rifleman, who had been unnoticed in the entrance, stepped inside and fired three shots.

The nine customers in the bar were able to describe only vaguely the men, who took about $150 from the cash register.

Back in Frankfurt after a flying visit to Washington and New York, Gen. Clay told newsmen that he had "not met anyone who opposed the airlift."

In his two-day stay in the U. S. Gen. Clay won presidential approval for assigning 66 more C-54 Sky-master planes for the airlift.

U. N. Security Council Members Convinced Russia Will Veto Compromise

BELIEVE VISHINSKY STALLING FOR TIME

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Oct. 23.—United Nations Security Council members went into week-end huddles today fully convinced that the Russians undoubtedly will veto a new compromise resolution to settle the Berlin crisis.

Few believed that Russia will accept the new compromise proposed by the small-power "neutral" members of the Security Council. There was general agreement that Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky was merely stalling for time when he delayed action of the compromise until Monday afternoon.

World Lift Blockade
The compromise provides that Russia lift its blockade of Berlin, that the four military governors resume their talks, and that when the issue is settled the Big Four foreign ministers meet to discuss Germany. The proposal sets Nov. 30 as the deadline for concluding the military government work on Berlin.

Already accepted by the United States, Britain, and France, the compromise is now up to the Kremlin, and the Soviet reply Monday is awaited anxiously.

But the west has already laid its plan for taking the "whole package" to the Security Council, when, if the Kremlin says nothing to forestall the Russians, the plan in the Security Council.

In the assembly, the U. N. will insist on specific recommendations of Russia for terminating the peace by its economic siege of the former German capital.

Few Seen Repeat
Argentine Foreign Minister Juan A. Baramagna, who has been serving as a go-between in attempting to find a compromise acceptable to both East and West, is one of the few still hopeful that the Russians will accept the new plan.

Baramagna is keeping in close touch with the six Security Council "neutral" sponsors of the plan. (Continued on Page Two)

Bands Present Snappy Program At Grid Game

Misses Khatkhatourian, the Russian composer, was not at the New Castle-Lehaden football game today night in Taggart stadium. But if Mr. K. had been there, he undoubtedly would have appreciated the presentation of his famous Sabre Dance by the New Castle senior high school band. It not only was done well, but the band did it with the field lights off. The lights from their camp twinkled out like stars, and ahead of the band little Veronice Russo completed the sabre dance idea with a lighted baton, not electrically lighted, but fire. The other twirlers did an accompanying dance with their electric lights looking like fireflies in a spring evening.

Twelfth Street Rag
The program was the hardest yet attempted by the band. Entering the field, "Across the Field March" was played. The band then formed to make the figures and letters "12th" and put on the Twelfth Street Rag with the snare drum leading their staff. The Mr. Lehaden band gave the same snare drum with their marching and their majorettes. The band had 60 musicians and carried 20 majorettes. They play and march in a first instance with the majorettes adding color to the scene with their graceful rhythm. The band is directed by Philip Friedman.

meant to halt fighting in the Negro. Jewish officials warned that the attack may lead to a general flare-up of fighting in the north. An Israeli communiqué said that Syrian troops last night surprised Jewish fighters at Sheikh Aboud, on the heights commanding the Syrian frontier, with an all-out assault. It said that the Israeli forces surrounded the position and retreated but that fighting is still going on. The United Nations was warned by the officials that "this grave aggressive action" threatens truce provisions. The southern front was reported quiet, despite Egyptian allegations that the Jews have violated the armistice and may come fire.

as well as with the Soviet and Big Three western delegations over the week-end. Anticipating new Soviet "feelers," western sources stressed that no proposal will be accepted which does not commit the Russians to lifting the blockade before any other action is taken. Meanwhile, the assembly faced new tension as it prepared to discuss the Balkan issue. Russia and her satellites were expected to lead a fight to persuade the political committee from airing the question of the Greek rebellion at this time. Lost in the shuffle for the time being is the Palestine plan of the late Count Folke Bernadotte. It appears certain the issue will not be brought up until after the U. S. elections.

party speakers and workers to refrain from "reply in kind" to any opposition attacks containing "vituperation or abuse." Dewey warned that the opposition, in a "desperation" move, may throw sharp punches in the final days of the campaign. He said there was evidence of such a move, adding: "There is no doubt they will intensify their campaign of fear and that there will be increasing vituperation and abuse." "I ask all who believe with us not to respond in kind, under any circumstances, whatever the provocation." Before leaving New York, Gov. Dewey reaffirmed his previously announced approval of the majority report of the United Nations special committee recommending the partition of Palestine. He did so at the request of Dean Acheson, chairman of the American Christian Palestine committee of New York.

The AEC therefore called upon the electrical workers union to furnish the commission immediately with records of all employees "associations and affiliations." The commission said that if the union does not immediately comply it will direct the General Electric company to withhold recognition of the union which has members working on AEC owned or leased plants in the Schenectady area or elsewhere by General Electric.

They Never Mention Flowers, They Go Without Saying

That invitation to a fraternity ball, a formal party, or an event of most any kind never says a word about flowers for the young lady. By now, flowers are "standard equipment" for a social event.

When you accept a social invitation, have your flowers match the hospitality of your host. You'll want the best, properly designed.

When the box has our tag on it the young lady knows you have sent the best.

"We Stand on Our Record", Or Does That Sound Political?
Standing on records is a favorite pastime these days for candidates. Sometimes it is good, sometimes it is for vote snagging purposes.

But we're standing on our record and it isn't a political record. Over the years we have built up a record for square dealing, honest workmanship, reasonable prices and quality trucks and trailers.

Some candidate will get your support on November 2. We want your support every day in the year.

WESTMINSTER CHAPEL

SCENE OF WEDDING

Wallace Memorial chapel at Westminster college was the scene of one of the loveliest weddings of the season when Miss Margaret Ellen Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Moore, of 304 East Winter avenue, became the bride of John Reed McFarland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reed D. McFarland, of New Wilmington.

Before the chapel altar, which was decorated with palms and large vases of white mums and lighted candelabras, the young couple exchanged vows at the double ring ceremony before a large gathering of friends and relatives. Open church was observed.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white chiffon velvet, fashioned with a sheer net yoke draped with velvet, which was draped and gathered with tiny clusters of orange blossoms. It was styled with long sleeves which pointed and buttoned at the wrist, a large bustle back and a full hoop skirt, caught up across the front with tiny clusters of orange blossoms, and she carried a colonial bouquet of gardenias, centered with an orchid.

As matron of honor Mrs. Floyd Cotton, sister of the bride, wore a powder blue chiffon velvet gown fashioned similarly to the bride's, it was styled with a sheer net yoke edged with draped velvet, a large bustle back and a full skirt. She wore long velvet mitts the same color as her gown and a crown of blue mums in her hair. She carried a colonial bouquet of gardenias.

James Cummings, cousin of the groom, served as best man, and the ushers were Robert Shaffer, Glenn Means, George Robinson, all of New Wilmington, and David Aze, of New Castle.

Francis Peterson, soloist, sang "Always," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Miss Helen Francis, sorority sister of the bride.

Following the congratulatory period a group of the brides sorority sisters serenaded her as she stood with the groom on the steps of the chapel.

The reception for 100 guests was in a New Wilmington inn, which was decorated throughout with lovely flowers. The bride's table was beautifully appointed and centered with a five-tier wedding cake. The brides, who were all attired in pastel formals with crowns of mums in their hair, were the Misses Anne Glenn and Margaret Ann Black, Mrs. James Cummings and Mrs. Edwin McCrory. Mrs. Dean Nelson of Tyroburg, Pa., was in charge of the guest book.

Following the "open house," which was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the reception, the newlyweds left on a wedding trip to Florida, and upon their return will reside at 2600 Carnegie avenue, New Wilmington.

What They Say Of Chest Drive

P. W. BRADLEY
 R. D. 1, Putahi
 We all know of the work being done with our money when we contribute to the Community Chest. The light that shines farthest shines brightest at home. When we pass by the buildings or headquarters of the 13 Red Feather services our gifts help to support. We can say to ourselves "I am glad to have a part in their work". We do not need to read the court news expecting to find any Boy or Girl Scout there for transgressing the law. Also our gifts help to heal the sick and injured and rescue those from vain paths in life and thus make our community a safer and better place to live in.

By REV. A. E. SIMON
 Pastor, St. John's Lutheran Church
 Old-fashioned neighborliness, of the Good Samaritan kind, is a well-established religious heritage of our fathers who established this commonwealth and nation who, when his neighbor's barn burned down, pitched in and helped him rebuild, mend his fence, or plow his field. Our fathers and mothers could help each other more directly than we, but let us remember that while the world has changed in many ways, the basic needs are still the same, yet more complicated. People still get hungry and sick, confused, lonely, distressed. Temptations are greater to all. Either more prisons and jails, or we must maintain and expand character building institutions for children and youth. The Community Chest is merely good neighbors helping out other worthy neighbors, that together they may build a community that will be worthy of their God and religious profession.

LOOKING AT LIFE

 of common sense believe that to be religious one must leave the responsibility for all his follies to God? Why on earth were we human beings, above all other beings, given the power of our own decisions? Shall God, shall Jesus be held responsible if you speed at 60 miles an hour and kill somebody or get killed? Has not Jesus told us to obey the law rather than break it? Your religion is yours to use or abuse. Your health is yours to use or abuse. Your morals are yours to use or abuse. My conception of religion is that I have been given all the beauties and the blessings of this earth to do with as I please. The gift came from God. The use of the gift is my responsibility. Else why do you think we have also been given that indefinable thing called Conscience? (Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Specialists Needed For Anti-Aircraft

Men With Previous Experience Can Re-Build With Excellent Opportunity

New Castle veterans of World War II service in any of the armed forces may qualify for enlistment in the Army in advanced grades ranging up to sergeant first class (formerly technical sergeant) if they are trained in one or more of 25 different technical specialties in which the anti-aircraft artillery is seeking men. M. Sgt. H. E. Owney of the New Castle U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting main station announced today.

He explained that the Army needs men trained in such specialties as radar operation or maintenance, fire control electronics, communications, gunnery or artillery mechanics. Many of them will be assigned to new anti-aircraft units organized under the recently authorized expansion of the Army.

Only men who have been honorably discharged from one of the armed forces since 12 May 1945, can qualify for this opportunity, Sgt. Owney said. They may enlist for a period of three years, with the assurance of being assigned to anti-aircraft artillery duties, and will be given advanced technical training in their chosen fields.

Complete information about the anti-aircraft artillery may be obtained at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting main station, room 400, Frew building, or at the recruiting office in room 302 Post Office building, New Castle, Pa.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By Ernest G. Osborne

THE FAMILY WORKSHOP

Balloon Play...

The common toy balloon is something more than an object to be carried on the end of a stick or a string. Here are a couple of ideas that have proved themselves to be a lot of fun for both children and grown-ups.

Stretch a string across the middle of the room, somewhat higher than the children's heads. Use a well-inflated balloon as a volley ball and let them pass it from one to another across the string. For the older children, regular volley ball rules may be followed. For the younger children, the fun is in the mere activity of hitting the balloons.

Another simple but full-of-fun game is played on the dining room table. Those playing kneel so that their heads are just above the top of the table. A balloon is placed in the center and entirely by blowing, the youngsters attempt to send it to the other end of the table and to keep it from being blown over the end. This game needs a number of players so that contestants can be stationed at the sides as well as the ends.

WASHINGTON CALLING

enhower could be persuaded to accept the chairman, President-elect Dewey (as he presumably will be) should welcome the move.

With a new Republican administration tensions should be lessened. Suspensions and fears should be allayed. But Dewey may find himself under pressures from within his own party to go further in "cleaning out communists in the government" than he would care to go. He may find himself pressured to act in such a way as to compound present injustices.

A committee of fair-minded citizens of high reputation would be a bulwark against that sort of pressure. Its findings, supported by public opinion, should do much to quiet hysteria. When the hurly-burly of the campaign is over it will be time for such a move.

Fall Institute Held By Lutherans

Summary Of Nineteenth Biennial Convention Of United Lutheran Church In Given

The fall institute of the West Conference of the Pittsburgh Synod of the United Lutheran church was held Thursday evening at St. John's Lutheran church here.

The meeting was opened with brief devotions conducted by Rev. A. E. Simon and special music by his three daughters, Ruth, Naomi and Joan.

Dr. H. Reed Shepherd, president of the Pittsburgh Synod of the United Lutheran church, gave the address of the evening.

Dr. Shepherd told the group that the ULCA budget for 1950 would be four and one-half million dollars. Speaking about the church's place in the world he stated "evangelism is the sole purpose of the church. It has no other purpose than winning souls for Christ."

Makes Appeal

Rev. William Marburger of New Brighton made an appeal for Lutheran World Action. The goal for the year 1950 is $4,000,000. These funds are being used to rehabilitate the people and reconstruct the churches in Europe.

The home was colorfully decorated throughout in keeping with the Halloween theme. After unmasking, prizes were awarded for the most unique costumes to Mrs. Eleanor Burgess, Mrs. Elizabeth Betka, and Mrs. Barbara Lynch.

The evening was then spent playing various games and in an informal social manner. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Phyllis Gerry, Mrs. Cecelia Lachey, Mrs. Rosemary Suber and Mrs. Martha Maher.

The guests then were invited to the dining room, where at a table centered with tall orange tapers and lovely fall flowers, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, aided by Mrs. Rosemary Suber and Mrs. Phyllis Gerry.

A short business meeting was then conducted by Mrs. Barbara Lynch, at which time a lovely gift was presented to the hostess.

Special guests were Mrs. Phyllis Gerry, Mrs. Phyllis Nunsley, Mrs. Margaret Danahovich, Mrs. Cecelia Lachey and Mrs. Pearl Bodendorfer.

The next meeting in the form of a "Come As You Are" party will be November 4, at the home of Mrs. Jewell Sheen, 407 Bell avenue.

What can I do with it, Daddy?

No wonder Junior looks so disconcerted. It's been a long time since youngsters could be awarded for a good deed (or encouraged to "scram" by sister's date) with a mere penny. It's hard to think of any want Junior could satisfy with a penny.

No, it takes practically a piggy-bank full of pennies to buy anything nowadays. . . . But there's still one place where pennies really count—it takes only a few a day for the family's water supply. In fact, a whole day's supply for the average family costs about what Junior spends for a candy bar or sister for a bottled cola.

• Convenient, dependable, safe—your water supply is one of the most useful and least costly of modern domestic services. Are you taking full advantage of all the ways it can bring better living to you and your family?

NOW IS THE TIME TO GIVE TIRED GRASS A FRESH START

Re-vitalize "summer weary" grass with a full application of Milorganite. Unlike most plants, grass grows vigorously in the fall . . . provided dividing soil fertility is restored by generous feeding. Milorganite is the ideal fertilizer for the lawn because it contains all the elements needed by grass.

Golf clubs use more Milorganite than any other fertilizer. They know from long experience that it is the ideal fertilizer. Profit by their example. Fertilize with Milorganite this fall for greener, more lustrant lawns now and NEXT year, too.

Court Divides Joint Account

Judge Braham Divides Money Between Man And Woman, Joint Tenancy In Property

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

Dividing a bank account approximately $5,000, Judge W. Braham has handed down an order and opinion in the case of Oscar Wukovich versus Christina Wukovich, also known as Christina Wukovich, and the Lawrence Savings & Trust Co.

The case is one in which the plaintiff asked for an accounting of funds held by the defendant and a division of them. He recited that in 1938 he went to board with the defendant in Taylor township and later they began living together as man and wife. This despite the fact that each had a spouse.

After living together for some time they purchased a house in Shenango township and later purchased one in Union township. The one in Union township was sold at a profit and the money placed in the bank. The total was $5,000.24 which the plaintiff claimed belonged to the two jointly.

Judge Braham ruled that the money should be divided .3738 or $1,429.93 to the plaintiff and .7262 or $2,970.31 to the defendant. The property in Shenango township is to be considered jointly held.

VANDALISM ON SIDEWALK

County commissioners were informed Friday of a piece of vandalism on the South Mill street bridge. The commissioners had the east sidewalk repaired and about six yards of concrete poured.

Sometime Thursday night vandals tramped through the fresh concrete, wrote obscene words in it and created damage which took time and money to repair Friday morning.

Similar vandalism was reported on a sidewalk on East street and at the work at Shenango township school.

PARENTS MAY HELP IN CORRECTING TATTILING

Tattletales are made, not born! Parents who are disturbed because their child is a tattletale can do something about it. Many parents encourage tattling without realizing it.

Children who quarrel can best settle their differences among themselves. There will be fewer after-effects if parents do not interfere. When adults realize this, they will be less interested in tales of woe and the tattler will find he has no interested audience. Analyzing why a child tattles will help parents understand their child better. An insecure child builds up his morale through tattling. The shy child has an urge to be bad, but does not quite dare, so he carries tales of other children's badness. Some children use tattling to cover up their own bad behavior.

A child may not realize that this is why he is acting as he does, but when his guilty feelings get too big for him he has to hand them on to someone else in order to obtain relief himself. If a child is overly excited as he talks, it may be due to a feeling of defeat or frustration.

When a child brings a tale to mother and father, they should analyze the story to see if the matter rightfully concerns the child. If the tales are always about one particular child, the relationship between the two children should be studied. In such a situation, the tale-bearer is often maladjusted. Usually a feeling of envy or resentment prevails. With careful handling, confidence, a better understanding and friendly relations can be built up. If a child is accepted by other children, he won't feel the need to run to adults to fill the gap in his life. Adults can help squelch tattling if they turn a deaf ear to tattlers. Later, parents may investigate the situation. Parents should not have punishment and praise on only the evidence they receive from children who tattle. Parents or teachers should not ask a child for information that encourages tattling. Judgment in a child develops slowly and the direction it takes depends on the attitudes of their parents.

Drive Slow—Children Move Fast.

Why not let the govern run the agencies? "There are those, no doubt, who would suggest that the financing of character-building, social and welfare agencies should be a function of government," said Austin A. Webb, executive committee member of the Community Chest campaign. "These people are mistaken. Our founding fathers realized that the less government, the better off we are, when they wrote our federal Constitution, not as a grant of wide powers to a central government, but as a deliberate, well thought out limitation upon the powers which might be assumed by the central government. The Community Chest is democracy in action. It is distinctly American. It is not animated by ambition, or hatred, or fear, but by love. Its object is not to take something but to give something. It is not ordered, it is not compelled. It is voluntary."

Mr. Webb further stated that the success of the Community Chest plan has not only proven itself as an American ideal that can be made to work, but also serves as a demonstration in practical democracy for the eyes trained on us from all the galleries of the earth.

ringing my doorbell?"

"No, it won't happen to you.

"But, it could—if this town didn't have a Community Chest.

"It used to be like that . . . then at last all these good causes united in the Community Chest, with one annual campaign. Now a group of trustworthy citizens studies the total needs of our town, sets a campaign goal that meets those needs, and distributes fairly all the funds raised.

"I like it, that way. I don't want the old days of separate, competitive campaigns to come back again, ever.
But if I feel that way, then I realize that I've got to play fair. Since the Chest is for all Red Feather services then I've got to give my share of ENOUGH for all.

The Community Chest can protect me from my doorbell—but not from my conscience. Not from my pride in my community.

"So when my doorbell rings ONCE for the Community Chest volunteer solicitor, I'm going to pledge ENOUGH.
It won't be too hard, for I'm going to spread my pledge just as Red Feather services are spread—over a whole year. Won't you do that, too?"
